

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1888.

NO. 7.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—Senator Rigney's bill to prevent the sale of cartridges was defeated.

—The bill to license houses of ill repute in Louisville was killed deadlier than a mackerel.

—Nesbitt's bill to fix the penalty for carrying concealed weapons at $100 fine was killed by the Senate.

—Mr. Shearer has presented a bill to take the sense of the people of Wayne on the question of prohibiting the sale of liquors.

—Charley Henderson has been put to work in the shoemaker's shop in the penitentiary and is now doing the first honest work of his life.

—A bill to give circuit clerks half of the fees in criminal cases that they receive in civil cases, payable out of the treasury, is before the Senate.

—A bill has been entered to exempt railroads from damages to stock if they enclose their tracks with fences 4½ feet high and keep them in good repair.

—The parents of Senator W. F. Berry, of Henderson, celebrated the 63d anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Berry is 83; his wife 80. Senator Berry, their oldest son, is 60.

—The Senate passed a bill creating a Board of Equalization, composed of one member from each Appellate district and the Auditor of State. $5 per day and mileage is to be allowed the members; the Board to assemble annually at the Capital on Feb. 10.

Vest on the Pauper Pension Bill.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, spoke on the Pauper Pension Bill last week and ridiculed the idea of the almshouses of the country being filled with veterans of the late war. The South today, he said, was covered with maimed and crippled soldiers, who had been shot and sabred for their honest convictions, and they asked no pensions. Nor were any of them begging for bread or in almshouses. All the talk of brave Union soldiers suffering for the necessities of life is but the hypocritical cant of that grab-all organization, the G. A. R., which is never at rest except when its hands are at the throat of the public treasury. The Senator also punctured the sham that makes every vagabond who shouldered a musket, but whose skin bears no scar, a pensioner under the head of "disability." The keenness of his satire on this single point can be discerned in a measure from the following brief excerpt from his speech:

"Of the 2,300,000 men enrolled as soldiers during the four years of war, there were applications from 1,200,000 for pensions on account of disability. Such military execution has never been known in the history of the whole world. The Confederates had thought that they had poor powder and ordinance stores, and yet, making due allowance for the effect of climate in producing disability, it would appear that one Confederate soldier, half-dressed and half-fed, had disabled three of his adversaries. There had been no such destruction in military annals since the children of Israel marched through the wilderness, destroying whole nations in a single day. The marksmanship of the Persian Prince in the Arabian Nights, whose arrows crossed mountains and rivers and despoiled space in their flight, had been nothing to that of the Confederate soldier. His bullet must hit two or more at the same time, and struck where it was not aimed. Fifty per cent. of all the host of the Union armies were applicants for pensions on account of disability."

There was a limit to human endurance. He had voted for pension bills, coerced by his position, because he had been a Confederate and because he was honestly anxious for the honor and glory of the country. He had voted for them because he wanted to evidence to the world that the man with whom he had acted in the unfortunate strife respected the fair and gallant soldiers of the Union and were willing to give them even more than they demanded. "But," he repeated with strong emphasis, "there is a limit, and I have reached it. I will be driven no further by claim agents and plunderers in the garb of soldiers. For the honest and brave and real soldiers of the Union I am willing to vote any amount of pensions, but for the pension agents, camp followers, bounty-jumpers and coffee-coolers, I have the profoundest contempt."

The Stanford Interior Journal is out in a new dress and an attractive head and other adornments that make it one of the prettiest as well as the best and newest newspaper in Kentucky. Bro. Walton has made as happy a selection in his headline as he does in the methods of conducting his paper. [Pineville Messenger.]

The Interior Journal is out in a new dress and is prettier than ever. [Bardonia Record.]

There have been more chickens destroyed by cholera since the war than there were men killed during the war, but Gant's Chicken Cholera Cure will soon stop that. It is sold and warranted by McRoberts & Stagg.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Our village is away behind again, it being the only place heard from in which Tascott has not been arrested.

—The members of the Baptist church of Hustonville, are requested to be present at the church service Saturday, March 10th. Business of importance. R. R. Noel, pastor.

—J. D. Carpenter is still reported as exhibiting favorable symptoms. Miss Mary Adams, who has been seriously ill, is able to be out. The doctors are trying to organize a bicycle club as a means of employing their idle time.

—The evening of the 29th ult. is said to have gone off very pleasantly. J. B. Cook, of Stanford, H. Hocker, C. B. Reid, "Lud" Evans and Mr. Pulliam, from Danville, and Miss Minnie Dinwiddie and Mr. Green, from Lexington, were guests.

—Mrs. J. E. Huffman, of Liberty, has been making a protracted visit here among relatives and friends. Hence that unearthly howl from "Joe" last week. J. M. Cook is with us only occasionally now. Constant employment and horseback exercise are rejuvenating him very rapidly. Clay Powell and wife left us last week to take up their residence at Somerset. Beecher Adams is back after a long stay in Texas, looking well.

—The Presbyterian pulpit has been supplied the last two Sundays by Rev. Tom McWilliams, a very promising young minister of Danville. He has made a highly favorable impression on our people. Dr. E. M. Green, of Danville, is to preach here next Sunday at 3 p. m. J. B. Green's Sunday school at Moreland bids fair to be the banner institution of the county. During the exceedingly unfavorable winter the attendance has ranged generally as high as 60 and never below 40, I believe.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—J. E. Lynn sold to D. N. Prewitt 105 sheep at $3.

—W. R. Dillon bought of B. G. Gover a mare mule at $110.

—For Sale.—Three red thoroughbred bulls. J. S. Murphy, Sr.

—E. A. White bought of B. G. Gover a 15½-hand horse mule for $120.

—Elder J. Q. Montgomery bought of B. G. Gover a mare mule for $95.

—W. S. Ferguson bought of A. S. Bosley a combined bay mare for $130.

—The stable and store of W. Doty, at Winsboro, S. C., burned Friday night. Mr. Doty is a native of Garrard.

—Alexander, of Fayette, has sold the brown filly, Fairwater, 4 years old, to Skannel, of Houghton, La., for $2,000.

—The mammoth tobacco warehouse now going up on Main street, between Ninth and Tenth, will be the largest brick structure in Louisville.

—A careful estimate of the 1887 produce of Barley tobacco in the principal counties of Kentucky fixes it at 24,284,000 against 69,177,000 pounds in 1886.

—It was a mistake about Second Jewel's being sold at the Lexington sales. He is still the property of W. W. & P. C. Sandidge, and they will stand him this season.

—The Harrodsburg Democrat says some hogs have been engaged in Mercer at 6 cents for April delivery. W. A. Sharpe sold a car-load of 140-pound hogs in Cincinnati at 51.

—F. B. Harper paid County Clerk Moore on Monday $225 for license for standing his stallions. Longfellow $500, Rossington $150, J. S. Johnson $150, Germantown $25. [Midway Clipper.]

—The Gazette says over 1,000 thoroughbreds are booked for sale in Lexington during the coming three months. It is expected that the horse sales for 1888 will aggregate $1,000,000 in that city.

—Capt. Sam Brown denies of it. He now says he did not say that there was crookedness in the Derby run on the Louisville Jockey Club grounds in 1882 and many other turfdom testify that if he did he told a lie.

—Peters & Rude, who shipped 150 mules to Macon, Georgia, several weeks ago, report about 100 sold at from $75 to $175. J. B. Nooe sold this week to Frank James 20 head of sheep at $4.50 per head. [Harrodsburg Sayings.]

—G. H. King bought of J. Horton the model stallion, Mambrino King, for $1,000. Also of Grove Kennedy a thoroughbred 3-year-old mare for $110 and sold to Otis Newland a brood mare for $90; to Grove Kennedy a saddle and harness mare for $125.

—Yesterday was a daisy cut day, almost without people and nearly entirely without stock. The weather was "like Toke Grider's description of the show in one particular at least, and all sensible men who had no business here staid by their firesides in preference to tramping the whole day in mud and slush.

—Uriah Dunn, just back from Bardonia, S. C., was here yesterday and told us that during his stay there he sold 100 head of horses and mules at prices ranging from $75 to $425 for the former and $85 to $175 for the latter. The demand, while brisk in January, is very light now and but little is doing in the trade.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Methodist week of prayer and self denial is April 1-8.

—The Central Methodist and Methodist Standard have consolidated.

—Rev. W. B. Godbey's revival at Millwood, Ky., closed with 36 conversions.

—The Southern Baptist convention will meet at Richmond, Virginia, May 11, 1888.

—Martin Duran was hanged at Prescott, Arizona, for the murder of his mistress.

—In the various Presbyterian Colleges 389 young men are preparing for the ministry.

—The New York Legislature is enacting a law forbidding the "faith cure treatment."

—A letter from Bro. Barnes dated Mar. 1, says that he is preaching at Cuba Station, Ala., but had about concluded to go to Mobile yesterday.

—Rev. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the National House of Representatives, is very ill, suffering from hemorrhages and a complication of diseases.

—The Henry county Methodist preacher, Allen Ross, was found guilty on each of the four counts against him and he was debarred from preaching to his several charges.

—Trinity Church, the oldest in New York, and a great resort for curiosity-seekers, is said to be settling so fast as to render it dangerous. It was probably built upon the sand.

—Joe Jones, a brother of Slange-Slange Sam, is holding forth at Millersburg and creating quite a furore in religious circles. It appears that he is a little more chaste in his language than Samvel.

—Brother Elson preached his anniversary sermon at the Baptist church Sunday. During the year he has been pastor the church has been greatly revived. Forty have been added to the membership and $1,203 for the various purposes have been collected.

—A Courier-Journal correspondent suggests that Bro. Barnes be invited to preach a month in the Tabernacle at Louisville. The friends of the good evangelist in this part of the State unite in the hope that it will be done. He is a much finer orator than Moody, is even more earnest in his desire to save souls and the large building would be packed at each service by those anxious to hear his sweet gospel.

—A Union Sunday School was organized at Pleasant Point Sunday. It is a Baptist church and an effort was made by some to have all the officers Baptists, but Henry Rice, a Methodist, was elected superintendent over a Baptist brother and on a motion to reconsider he got nearly every vote in the house. James T. Brown was then elected assistant superintendent, and Miss Martha Alford, M. A. Middleton and W. D. Dye, teachers. About 50 pupils were enrolled.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mr. John Melvin, formerly a citizen of this county, lost his saw mill by fire at Lily, Laurel county, last week. He will rebuild at once.

—Otter & Co., bought in the property that was sold at commissioner's sale last week, for $2,275, amount of the debt. A. T. Nunneley bought 420 dozen eggs here one day last week.

—Nate Evans, night operator for two years at this place, and afterwards agent at Altamont and Livingston, has accepted a position on an Ohio road near Zanesville his old home.

—Miss Florence Lackey, of Madison, and Miss Lillie McClary, of Lincoln, are visiting N. M. Shumate's family. Mrs. Polly Martin, of Lily, is visiting her mother at this place. [T. S. Miller, of Garrard, came down Saturday to see his brother, M. C., who is here from Texas.]

—Rev. Eugene S. Snodgrass leaves Wednesday, via San Francisco, for Ekiti, Japan, as a missionary from the Christian church. Bro. S. is a native of this county and graduated at the Bible College of Kentucky University. He has been for some time preaching to a congregation at Ashland.

—Henry and Hugh Miller, two young men, have just completed with a scroll saw and jack knives the finest thing we have seen in the way of a clock. It is made in the form of a cathedral and is composed of various colored hard woods. There are 232 pieces in the clock, not including the movements. They have sold it for $20.

—A disease has broken out among the sheep in the vicinity of Paris, which is more fatal than scab.

Maple Sugar.

Numbered with curious inventions for which a patent has been granted is the one to an Indiana genius for making maple sugar by simply mixing an extract of hickory with any ordinary sirup, such as cane-sugar sirup or sorghum. A decoction of the wood of the maple has been in times past used for this same purpose. The Indiana genius, therefore, claims as his invention the use of the hickory extract only when it may be employed to impart an agreeable flavor. It has been discovered that said extract gives to any ordinary sirup the flavor of maple, producing a sirup which can not be distinguished from the genuine maple sirup. This flavored sirup may, of course, be boiled down and a sugar resembling maple sugar in taste be produced.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The oldest inhabitant is now satisfied that the ground hog is a good prophet.

—A little child of Lon Hays, who married Miss Hamilton, of this city, died in Richmond last Thursday.

—There is a strong movement on the part of some of the citizens of Lancaster to have the tariff removed from salt.

—Mr. A. Lindberry and family have removed into the new residence just completed by Mr. H. T. Noel, on Water street.

—There are a legion of men in Lancaster for "arguing can show their skill. For 'em though vanquished, they can argue still."

—H. C. Kauffman is a candidate for delegate to the St. Louis convention. Garrard and Lincoln will of course back him strongly for the place.

—E. D. Bishop was rejoicing yesterday morning over the fact that Kentucky has gotten ahead of West Virginia in the Hatfield cases. He was quite jubilant.

—J. H. Bland, a citizen of this county, committed suicide this, Monday, morning, by shooting himself through the head. No particulars obtainable at this hour.

—Fred Masonheimer, of Danville, is anxious to see a lodge of Knights of Pythias in Lancaster. As the Masonic order seems to have given up their lodge here, why can't we get up the Knights of P?

—Mrs. Hugh Smith, who has been so long a sufferer, died on Friday last. One D. Harris died suddenly of heart disease at his residence in the Buckeye precinct, on Saturday. He was the father of Mrs. W. T. West, of Lancaster. Harrison Ray died at his residence in this county on the 4th inst. Deceased was an old resident of the county.

Damon and Pythias.

The management who has charge of the Knights of Pythias entertainment desire to call special attention to this famous play as being one of very great merit, the moral being decidedly elevating. Mr. Laurie has met with great success wherever he has presented the play in the several States. He has been constantly at work for the past three weeks instructing his support and is confident that the performance will be an artistic success. The costumes, owned by Mr. Laurie, are beautiful and historically correct. The entertainment will be concluded with a beautiful tableau. The music will be by Prof. Robert Kline and will be a treat to all lovers of good music. Secure your ticket early in order to get a good seat.

The liquor problem, as to the best means of lessening the evils of intemperance by legislative enactment, is thought to be nearest solution in the plan of high license in the larger towns and cities and prohibition in the rural districts. Nearly all of the States are adopting this plan, and unless the experiment shall prove a failure, the subject will, in the near future, be entirely eliminated from State and National politics, and relegated to local contention outside of the larger cities and towns. [Frankfort Capital.]

Col. Ingersoll swears his lips shall never utter "that stereotyped falsity, 'Our Father who art in Heaven.'" Of course not! However when the sullen waters of the River of Death roll dark around the Great Infidel's feet, he will call on the Lord he now scorns as fast as he acknowledged the Confederacy when Forest's men pulled him from under the hog-pen floor. [Exchange.]

The story about the trained goat—in a baggage car, traveling with a theatrical company—pulling the bell-ropes and starting a train out of the Nashville depot before the conductor could get on board, is a better advertisement for the goat show than it is for the railroad.

Senator Reagan, of Texas, may be called the champion office-holder. He has drawn a salary from the public purse steadily for 50 years, having begun his career as Surveyor of Public Lands in the Republic of Texas in 1838.

A well-known old Philadelphia gossip was counting on her fingers the other day some of the fashionable people whose marriages were the result of runaway matches, and in not a single instance had they turned out well.

W. P. WALTON.

A COMPLETE list of the acts passed by the legislature in the 60 days composing the constitutional session is published in the Courier-Journal. They number 320 and are all of a local nature, save six, which are general in their character. As the cost of the body is about $1,000 a day it will be seen that each general law cost $10,000 and that the average of the list is about $200. The present body may not be any worse than its predecessors, but if a bigger lot of monumental jackasses ever assembled at Frankfort the fact is not recorded. There seems to be no head to the big democratic majority, which must be held responsible for the shortcomings of the body. The handful of republicans, under the direction of Bradley and his ilk, are permitted to shape legislation and often to carry their point against the unwieldy and idiotic mass of alleged democrats, who ought to be at home planting potatoes. The caucus to devise ways and means to pull itself out the ruts was a flat failure and an adjournment was had till to-morrow night, when the probability is that the result will be as before. If the democratic party is to be held responsible for the sins of commission and omission of its legislature, which God forbid, its majority in the State will continue to grow small by degrees and beautifully less.

The Lebanon Enterprise raises an important question, which may cut a large figure in the politics of the country and perhaps retire our ambitious, but short-legged friend, Billy O'Bradley, who is running himself to death to catch the vice-presidency, or something. It calls upon him to rise and "explain where he got that O' to his name, and relieve the great public mind as to the question of his nativity! Come, now, Mr. O'Bradley, honor bright, are you a bloody Irishman, or not?" We have known for a long time that Billy was born in Kilkenny, Ireland, and that his grandfather owned one of the famous cats, which fought until nothing but their tails were left, but we did not wish to ruin the prospects of the prospective Moses, who is to lead the Solid South into the blooming fields of the Republican Canaan, and hence have remained quiet. And we would continue to hold our peace, but for the fact that we cannot tell a lie. Mr. O'Bradley is an Irishman, he gabbers, but had cess to the man who would throw it up at him, as Brer. Craft has done.

The funniest invention ever sent to Washington for a patent was received the other day. A crank, after much mental effort, has evolved a tape-worm trap, which is unique in the extreme. The modus operandi is to starve the patent afflicted with the worm till he can stand it no longer and then the trap, properly baited, is set in his mouth. The old tape finding nothing to forage upon down below crawls up and seeing the tempting morsel goes for it and gets his head clamped for his pains. The trap is withdrawn and along with it is supposed to come the worm, and then he is dispatched with an axe. The invention fills a long-felt want and it will not be long before every well regulated family is supplied with one or two.

The good sisters who met in Temperance Union at Lebanon last week, passed strong resolutions against the use of tobacco, which they characterized as a filthy and pernicious habit, and put the stamp of their disapproval upon the custom of using pictures of women to advertise whisky, tobacco and other like business. They also resolved to use their influence against the decollete dress of fashionable society. Success may crown their efforts in all save the latter. As long as it is the fashion for women to display their charms, those that have any to speak of are going to do so. At least it has been their nature to up to this time.

The question of Bradley's nativity having been settled by showing that he is an Irishman, which of course makes him ineligible for the vice-presidency, we rise to inquire what's the matter with George Gentry? And while we are up, we beg to suggest a ticket for the republicans, which is as follows, to-wit: Frederick Douglas, of Washington, for president, George Gentry, of Kentucky, vice-president. Platform—What are the white radicals going to do about it?

A WIFE at Cincinnati has just instituted suit for divorce because she caught her husband having his cravat tied by another woman. For a citizen of Cincinnati she is entirely too sensitive. Most wives there are content with even a small portion of their husband's favors.

A WOMAN at Texarkana, Texas, has just given birth to her third set of triplets, although she has been married but three years. No wonder the population of the Lone Star State is doubling up so rapidly, when one little woman increases it by nine in three short years.

GROVER CLEVELAND has served three of the eight years he is sure to serve as President of this great country. A year from last Sunday will see him re-inaugurated amid the grandest demonstrations of public approval ever known.

MR. CARLISLE, who is still with his sick son in Kansas, has been interviewed on the tariff reduction bill, which is ready to be presented to the House. He says: "It is a very conservative measure, and ought to be passed. The existing financial and industrial situation would have justified a much more radical measure in some respects, but there are always so many differences of opinion about details and so much apprehension about the effects of proposed changes in the rates of duty that it is impossible to do exactly what ought to be done." Regarding the result of the national convention, he expresses the general opinion when he says: "I believe the renomination of Mr. Cleveland as the democratic candidate is a foregone conclusion, and I have entertained no other opinion for more than a year. There will be no serious opposition to his nomination, and his re-election is as certain as any future event can be."

For the brave soldiers who answered their country's call in the hour of need and with heroic patriotism fought to save it without hope of reward or expectation of pension, we have the highest regard, and believe that such of them as are deserving of it should be liberally pensioned. But for the lazy fellows who did nothing in the army but destroy its rations and who now want the country to support them in their idleness, we have a very natural contempt, as every honest man should. The country owes it to its defenders to protect them from want, but it is not the part of a government to contribute to the support of pension sharks, bounty-jumpers and coffee-coolers.

The Owensboro Messenger is now owned by a corporation composed of Urey Woodson, who is president; Geo. E. Bridges, vice-president and Cicero T. Sutton secretary. Mr. C. W. Bransford, who, with Mr. Woodson, owned the paper, sold his half interest and retired, after ten years of honorable service. Mr. Woodson will continue to be the editor, which means that it will be as heretofore one of the cleanest and best papers in the State, while Mr. Sutton, an old and excellent newspaper man, will do the local department. Here's looking at the "corporators" and hoping that the good will of that $50,000 libel suit goes with the purchase.

The democratic House at Washington has set the opposition an example that it will never follow. It does not unseat a member whose seat is contested, simply because he is a republican, but decides in favor of the contestant which can show the clearest title to his seat, be he democrat or what not. The committee on elections on Saturday unanimously decided to report in favor of the claims of Mr. Post, the republican sitting member from the 10th Illinois district.

JUDGE BARR decided, after several days' deliberation, what he might have decided at once, that he has no jurisdiction in the Hatfield habeas corpus cases, and that the prisoners are not illegally held, if he had. They are therefore remanded to the Pikeville jail. The men disclaim any part in the business and told Judge Barr they would have remained in Pikeville in preference to being brought to Louisville had they been consulted.

The prohibitionists are the first to hold a State convention to select delegates to the national convention, which assemblies in Indianapolis June 6th. They will assemble in Leidenkranz Hall, Louisville, April 12th. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every 25 cast for Judge F. T. Fox, which gives Lincoln 15. The railroads will give special rates and all the prominent hotels will make reductions to the delegates.

There is need of a general re-organization of the democratic committee in this county and not a single member of the present body is averse to stepping down and out. In fact nearly all of them are anxious to do so as soon as their successors can be appointed, which can be done when the convention meets to appoint delegates to the convention, which is to send representatives to the national convention at St. Louis.

The pharmacy bill as passed the House requires that druggists in towns of 1,000 or more inhabitants shall hold diplomas or certificates of competency from the State Board of Pharmacy. If it becomes a law there will still be nothing to prevent the man with $5 worth of drugs and $100 worth of whisky to set up a "drug" store in villages and cross-road settlements.

The democrats of Lexington elected their municipal ticket from a to z just as easy as rolling off a log, notwithstanding the superhuman efforts of the rails, assisted by disgruntled democrats. This is another black eye for Bradley, who had been sitting up with the corpse there for many nights.

The biggest lie of the season comes Covington, Ga., where it is claimed a shoemaker's sign from Mt. Vernon, Ill., fell from the sky about a week after the cyclone took it from its place. No wonder the Psalmist exclaimed, "Lord, how this country is given to lying!"

A MEMBER referred to Gen. Speed Fry as a "gaseous substance," a "big puff of nothing," &c. This is too bad. The redoubtable hero of Mill Springs ought to have drawn his little gun and killed him like he did Zollieoffler?

EVERY self-respecting Kentuckian ought to shun the Cincinnati Enquirer as long as it employs the infamous Gath to traduce its citizens. His latest attack is on Billy Brockinridge and the whole Brockinridge family, because that gentleman has embraced several occasions to present the tariff for revenue sentiment which now pervades the democratic party. Gath is the bitterest of protection republicans and since Joe Blackburn pulled his dirty nose has had nothing but calumny for Kentuckians generally. By airing his views and grievances in an alleged democratic paper he is able to do much more harm than he would if his gall were presented in a republican sheet, and for this reason the paper which publishes his slush should be tabooed.

The shot was fired with his own pistol, which Gividen wrested from his hand.

—Ex-President Huntington of the Chesapeake and Ohio, denies that he was frozen out of office, and says his resignation was voluntary. He further states that President Ingalls, his successor, will give the road a Chicago outlet. A rumor is current that the Drexel-Morgan syndicate has obtained control of the property, though Mr. H. says he owns six times more stock than any other one man.

—The jury in the case of Montgomery who killed his sweetheart in Owen county, because she preferred another fellow, failed to agree and were discharged. At the time of the commission of the deed, it took sharp dodging by the officials to get Montgomery to Louisville before a mob made short work of him. Afterwards, while in jail there, he attempted to starve himself to death, but weakened after a week's fast.

—A terrible collision occurred on the Cincinnati Southern between Pine Knot and the State line about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Two freights, No. 15 and 20, manned by conductors Green Porch and John Taylor collided one mile south of Pine Knot. Fireman John Adair, of Lexington, was killed and Lee Perkins, who was stealing a ride, was fatally injured. Porch was badly hurt and several others were more or less severely injured.

—Tom Forsythe, who confessed to the murder of the county treasurer at Carthage, Texas, whom he robbed of $6,000, was taken out of jail by a mob, carried to a tree, his hands tied behind him, and a rope placed around his neck. A ladder was put up and he ascended, requesting that he be allowed to execute himself. A word of command was given by the leader of the lynchers and Forsythe jumped from the limb. His neck was broken and death occurred instantaneously.
